

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting the Bristol Chamber of Commerce website, and reviewing our privacy policy. Our privacy policy is clear: we will collect no personal information about you when you visit our website unless you choose to provide that information to us.

Here is how we handle information about your visit to our website:

Information Collected and Stored Automatically

If you do nothing during your visit but browse through the website, read pages or download information, we will gather and store certain information about your visit automatically. This information does not identify you personally. We automatically collect and store only the following information about your visit:

1. The internet domain (for example, "youragency.gov" if you connect from a government domain, "yourschool.edu" if you connect from a university's domain, or "xcompany.com" if you use a private internet access account) and IP address (an IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you are surfing the internet) from which you access our website;
2. The type of browser and operating system used to access our site;
3. The date and time you access our site;
4. The pages you visit; and
5. If you linked to our website from another website, the address of the referring site.

We use this information to help us make our site more useful to visitors, to learn about the number of visitors to our site and the types of technology our visitors use. We do not track or record information about individuals and their visits. We do not enable "cookies." (A "cookie" is a file placed on your hard drive by a website that allows it to monitor your use of the site.)

If You Send Us Personal Information

If you choose to provide us with personal information, as in an email to one of our online email boxes or by filling out a form with your personal information and submitting it to us through our website, we use that information to respond to your message and to help us get you the information you have requested. We treat emails the same way we treat letters sent to the Chamber, but we do not collect personal information for any purpose other than to respond to you. We collect personally identifiable information (name, email address or other unique identifier) only if specifically, and knowingly, provided by you. We do not share the information you provide with another government agency. Moreover, we do not create individual profiles with the information you provide, or give it to any private organizations. We do not collect information for commercial marketing.

Links To Other Websites

Our website has links to other agencies. We also link to other organizations' websites when we have a justifiable business reason to do so. This does not constitute an endorsement of their policies or products. Once you link to another site, you are subject to the privacy policy of the new site.

Site Security

To ensure that our website remains available to all users, the Bristol Chamber of Commerce utilizes a computer system that employs software programs to monitor network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information, or otherwise cause damage.
